DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12 April 2007 has been entered.

Election/Restrictions

2. Claims 37-40 remain withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 05 July 2005.

Oath/Declaration

3. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

Art Unit: 1732

The specification to which the oath or declaration is directed has not been adequately identified. See MPEP § 602.

Note that the title is missing from the declaration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this

Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1732

6. Claims 1-14 and 18-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reneker (U.S. Patent 6,695,992 B2) in combination with Gravett et al (U.S. Patent Application Publication 2004/0146546 A1).

Reneker (see the entire document, in particular, col. 3, lines 39-65; col. 10, lines 5-8 and 36-56) teaches a process of making fibers by electroblowing as claimed, except that Reneker does not explicitly teach making fibers from hyaluronan polymer, which is taught by Gravett et al (see the entire document, in particular, paragraphs [0021], [0083], [0087], [0098], [0099] and [0116]) and such would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in the process of Reneker in view of Gravett et al principally in order to manufacture a desired product from a biological polymer. Note that there is a reasonable expectation of success in using hyaluronan polymer in the process of Reneker principally because Gravett et al teaches making fibers of hyaluronan (e.g., hyaluronic acid) by electrospinning or melt-blowing.

7. Claims 1-14 and 18-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kim et al (U.S. Patent Application Publication 2005/0067732 A1) in combination with Gravett et al (U.S. Patent Application Publication 2004/0146546 A1).

Kim et al (see the entire document, in particular, paragraphs [0006], [0017] and [0020]) teaches a process of making fibers by electroblowing as claimed, except that Kim et al does not explicitly teach making fibers from hyaluronan polymer, which is taught by Gravett et al (see the entire document, in particular, paragraphs [0021], [0083], [0087], [0098], [0099] and [0116]) and such would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in the process of Kim et al in view of Gravett et al principally in order to manufacture a desired product from a thermoplastic polymer. Note that there is a reasonable expectation of success in using hyaluronan polymer in the process of Kim et al principally because Gravett et al teaches making fibers of hyaluronan (e.g., hyaluronic acid) by electrospinning or melt-blowing.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-14 and 18-36 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
